Freezer Paper Piecing is similar to paper piecing in technique. But the main and most important difference is you can reuse the templates and you don't have to rip out any paper. Instead of making 1,000 copies of your template (number maybe slightly exaggerated, but only slightly), you trace a copy on freezer paper.

Freezer Paper Foundation Piecing Overview - This technique uses the same numbered pattern that you might use in Paper Piecing, but you don't stitch through the paper. Instead, you pre-cut the freezer paper templates, press them onto the fabric, cut the shape out, adding extra for seam allowance. Then you use the freezer paper as a stitching guide to create those sharp points. When the block is done, the freezer paper pulls off easily because it has not been stitched through.

A couple of years ago, I learned how to use freezer paper as a foundation for paper-piecing and it revolutionized this technique for me. It is fast, does not require removal of the paper foundation, and the foundation can be reused at least a dozen times, saving time and paper. I have provided a PDF pattern for the block "Woven Star."
